Question	Answer
a) whether it is a fact that the Government has changed the policy for granting subsidy on anti hail nets; if yes, details be given; and	No, the Government has not changed the policy for granting the subsidy on anti hail nets, the pattern of assistance/subsidy remained the same i.e. 80% of the cost under both the schemes i.e. Mission for Integrated Development of Horticulture (MIDH) and State Plan Scheme. However, under State plan scheme "Scheme for Installation of Anti Hail Nets" the Department has empanelled the firms for the supply of anti hail nets.
(b) when the new policy would come into operation; what advantage would accrue to the farmers by the new policy ?	The firms empanelled by the Department for the financial year 2020-21 under state plan scheme will supply the anti hail nets at uniform rates to the farmers all over the state, which will result in saving of Rs 10-15/sq mt. depending on type of net. This will not only benefit farmer due to lower cost but also more number of farmers can be benefitted under the scheme.
